SSCh

Can a soap
be at the same time
a beauty product,
a testament to civilization,
and an opportunity for redemption from poverty?
The answer is yes.

ALEPPO SOAP

is considered the ancestor of all soaps and traces its origins to the ancient city of Aleppo,

Syria, where skilled artisans began its production by mixing olive oil with laurel oil. The secrets of its manufacture have been passed down from generation to generation to the present day, giving us a strictly natural product with precious properties. It is suitable for the most sensitive skin and for those who suffer from allergies and intolerances to perfumes and additives. It does not dry out or irritate the skin and possesses antioxidant, antibacterial, and moth-repelling qualities.

GIVING IS BEAUTIFUL WHEN IT HELPS

With Aleppo Soap, you support the activities of SSCh in favor of families, the elderly, and children living in refugee camps along the Turkish-Syrian border.

With this precious artifact, SSCh honors the history of Syria, cradle of a millennia-old civilization, now tormented by war and the desperate flight of families, the elderly, and children.

With this versatile natural product, SSCh enables local artisans to work honestly earning what they need.

SSCh, consistent with its humanitarian mission, has chosen to promote Aleppo Soap as a gift representative of its commitment.
